

Creating added value through long-term relationships

About the client

AM Services Group (AMSG) has been working in partnership with this leading blue chip company to provide security, cleaning and other services to two sites in Darwen since 2006. The sheet and composites business, under the Perspex® brand, in Darwen, has been owned by the Swiss firm Schweizer Technologies, owners of 3A Composites and Polycasa, since 2018. Previously this was owned by Lucite International, the global leader in the design, development and manufacture of acrylic based products.

Safety of the highest standard

The AMSG team is responsible for providing a 24/7 security service to two production plants and access control for all vehicles and staff entering and leaving the site. The large chemical manufacturing site demands the highest standards of security and safety for all employees, visitors, and contractors, and for the surrounding local community.

As well as cleaning, AMSG also provides process task work such as the weighing out of ingredients and drum rolling. While basic, this is a critical service. There is a very high degree of flexibility in AMSG's work which is supported by training and multi-skilling staff so that they can provide a range of services, such as grounds maintenance as and when needed. This ensures optimum use of staff time and value for money for the client.

Providing a flexible service

The ability to grow, adapt and integrate with the business has been key to the longstanding relationship with the client and has enabled AMSG to keep the contract through three successful tenders. The commitment of the team, and of the site manager who has 28 years' experience of working onsite, contributes to the strong partnership. AMSG's 'one team, one goal' mantra is often evident when our site manager steps in to help out on the front-line and ensure that everything runs smoothly.
